THE WOODLAND CHRISTMAS BALL

ANN BRADY

WOODLAND
ADVENTURES

It was getting cold in the wood, and the Little Friends had started collecting leaves, grass, and food ready for the winter.

When the snow came, all the Little Friends would hide away until springtime.

And, because the friends wouldn't see each other for a long time, they had decided to have a big party called the Christmas Ball.

Everyone would get dressed in their best outfits and have some fun before settling down to sleep.

Sarah Butterfly loved the Christmas Ball
because it meant she could show off the beautiful colours of her wings.

Sarah was very pretty and, when the sunlight
shone, it
made the colours of her wings
glitter and sparkle.

There were lots of things to organise for the Ball with everyone helping to get the clearing ready. First, they swept away the dead leaves, and then they polished the mushrooms.
